manroland

Thanks for taking a look...

...at what we've been doing for more than 160 years. After all, you can't become a global market leader overnight. It takes time. What happens when a company has been constantly developing innovations since 1845 that help the printing industry progress? No surprise: today it is the number one in web offset and the second-largest manufacturer of sheetfed printing systems. Owing to our 9,000 employees all over the world. At our production sites Augsburg, Offenbach, Mainhausen, and Plauen, manroland develops presses for all requirements. For our customers and for all those people who handle printed products every day.

If you read a newspaper, you know us.

Just like 380 million other people worldwide. Every third newspaper published on this planet is printed on a manroland press. In over 75 countries and on all continents.

The whole weekend we lay together on the couch.

This generally happens when you are relaxing with a magazine or a good book. How come? Well, manroland is the technology leader in commercial web offset. This is the printing process used for long runs of high-quality publications.

We've also been in your mailbox...

...sending you greetings on a postcard from some lucky person on vacation in the sun. But why wait for news from afar? We want to make your day right now as you leaf through this flyer. Sheetfed offset is the process used for this wide range of printed products. manroland's reputation for sheetfed offset quality is second to none.
